17. There are no legal prohibitions against women owning property. However, there are restrictions. For example, women must inherit property or businesses from a father or husband; if it is unmarriage, receive a grant of land from the ruling family in the emirate in which they reside. In the case of women who are married, the land must be granted to the husbands. But a woman's property remains separate from that of her husband: http://www.state.gov/g/drl/rls/hrrpt/2001/nea/8306.htm

ENDNOTES

2. Children of a Yemeni mother and foreign father do not have the right to their father’s name.30

4. Ibid., p 36.

6. Women must obtain permission from husbands or fathers to obtain a passport and to travel. They also are expected to be accompanied by male relatives, though enforcement is inconsistent. The Penal Code is keen towards “crimes of honor.” The law says that a man who murders a woman should be executed, but a husband who murders his wife and her lover is fined. According to a 1995 Interior Ministry regulation, any citizen who wishes to marry a foreigner must obtain the permission of the Ministry. A woman wishing to marry a foreigner must present proof of her parents’ approval to the Interior Ministry. A foreign woman who wishes to marry a citizen man must prove to the Ministry that she is “of good conduct and behavior,” and “is free from contagious disease.” There are no corresponding requirements for men to demonstrate parental approval, good conduct, or freedom from contagious diseases: http://www.state.gov/g/drl/rls/hrrpt/2001/nea/8313.htm
